Outsource Your Challenges to Our Experienced and Talented Project and Program Managers

Launching a program or project? Need a strong, talented and skilled leader to manage your strategically significant projects? Have a project or program that requires rapid recovery from failure? Need project and program management support when your capacity to price your clients support is low? We have the most talented and disciplined staff of project and program managers available to support your most important initiatives. Each of our project and program managers have over 20 years of experience in successfully leading large and complex projects and programs while at the same time, providing timely and valuable knowledge transfer to our clients.

Unlike most consulting companies, the project managers we put on site with clients are employees of PMLG, not sub-contractors. This means we have first-hand knowledge of their experience and expertise over many years in a variety of industries, successfully managing projects and programs of all sizes and complexity. In addition to having their PMP® all of our PMs have experienced and graduated from the unique and intense Certified Project Manager (CPM) certification and have earned Program and Portfolio Management Certification (PPMC) advanced certifications.

A few of our many onsite Project and Program Management services include:

- Program, project, portfolio and PMO outsourcing
- Project and Program Launches
- Troubled Project Recovery
- PMO and EPMO Implementation support
- Interim and post implementation reviews
- QA assessments and coachings
